Data management platform

Netmail provides on-premise or cloud-based security, archiving, migration, and file share solutions across multiple platforms including Microsoft Exchange/O365, Google, Amazon, and GroupWise. As organizations spread data across multiple cloud platforms, Netmail allows for simple consolidation of all that data into a single repository with singular indexing and eDiscovery features. Netmail also provides Migration Services to help companies move quickly to the Netmail Cloud.

Our Solutions

Netmail is a multi-cloud data management platform that takes unstructured data visibility to the next level. With connectivity to cloud and on premise collaboration platforms enhanced by smart search capabilities, organizations can discover, sanitize, consolidate, and quickly migrate their data. Netmail paves the way for AI to help organizations and their employees find and act on unstructured collaboration data easily from both their mobile and desktop devices.

Our Clients

Since our foundation in 2001, Netmail (formerly Messaging Architects Inc.) has helped more than 3,000 organizations and millions of individuals worldwide set up their email environments, protect and cleanse their data, ensure compliance, and optimize their unified communications. Our clients range from Fortune 1000 companies to state and local governments, the financial sector, educational institutions, and healthcare organizations.

Our Partnerships

We form lasting partnerships with one goal in mind: the success of our clients. Our Professional Services Team offers assessment, design, and implementation assistance to help our clients optimize their IT environments. Our Support Team ensures that our clients take full advantage of the features and benefits that our solutions offer – thus honoring our commitment to providing our clients with nothing less than remarkable support.

Our approach puts people before business, customer intimacy before process. You will work with a team of professionals who will be proactive, efficient, and supportive to your individual needs while taking ownership of the entire problem. What's more, with Netmail you're dealing with one vendor, one phone number, one hand to shake.

Our Culture

Life at Netmail is built around a culture of trust. We are entirely employee owned and operated—and we know this makes a huge difference. For us, learning and innovation is a continuous process. We constantly seek out or develop new technologies and love to share our expertise with our clients. Our Leadership Manifesto reminds us of our commitment to one another, our partners, and our clients, and it is what keeps Netmail from being just another ordinary software company.

Say what you mean - No bullshit.

Do what you say - Deliver.

Trust, period.

Don't pass the buck - Be the solution.
